Atchison, Kan., June 22.-The river began taking the Santa Fe's right of way near East it on cars. East Atchison is nearly depopulated by the river cutting away the town site and the residents moving away. The railroad and bridge company has suspended work in trying to stop the ravages of the water, and, as the river is now high and will continue its rapid cutting for some time, it is apparent that all traffic over the four roads running into Atchison from the East will be out off in a few weeks.
